Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 07 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Showers quickly developing, becoming locally heavy and perhaps thundery.

Today:
Many places dry with sunny spells initially. Cloud will quickly build this morning, with showers or longer spells of rain arriving across western areas, while elsewhere scattered showers develop. Anywhere showers may be heavy, perhaps thundery. Windy along the coast. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Often large amounts of cloud, but also some clear spells as showers gradually fade and become isolated and generally lighter. Breezy inland but windy along the coast. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Sunday:
Sunny spells and scattered showers, but with a slightly lower chance of catching heavy and thundery showers, especially later in the day. Temperatures close to average. Windy along the coast. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Showers or longer spells of rain Monday, locally heavy and sometimes thundery. Tuesday scattered showers, but lighter than previously. Wednesday dry, bright or sunny spells and possibly rather warm.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.